4.2. UNFPA is committed to preventing, identifying, and addressing all acts of fraud against UNFPA, as well as against third parties involved in UNFPA activities. 27.1.3. UNFPA shall correct arithmetical errors on the following basis:
27.1.3.1. In that case the line item total as quoted shall govern, and the unit price shall be corrected;

SECTION II: TERMS OF REFERENCE (TOR)

TERMS OF REFERENCE FOR EVALUATION OF ADOLESCENT GIRLS INITIATIVE PROJECT IN KAHAMA-SHINYANGA

Background
UNFPA, The United Nations Population Fund, is an international development agency supporting countries to address population and development, sexual and reproductive health and rights, and gender issues targeting women and young people in the context of sustainable development. UNFPA is committed to support adolescent girls on a comprehensive package of information and equitable access to sexual and reproductive health (SRH) services in an effort to make a quantifiable and demonstrable difference to SRH including family planning (FP) outcomes in specified communities in Tanzania. This has been steered within the framework of the UN Development Assistant Plan (UNDAP).

In partnership with Kiota Women’s Health and Development (KIWOHEDE) and with support from Packard Foundation, UNFPA has been piloting an Adolescent Girls Initiative project in Shinyanga region for three years (2013-2015) in the district of Kahama and Kishapu (as a control district) targeting out of school adolescent girls aged 10-19 years. The project reaches out to young girls aged 10-19 years with information on adolescent sexual reproductive health (ASRH) and family planning services in Kahama district. In Shinyanga almost half of all girls are either married or pregnant by the age of 14-19 years. To address this vulnerability KIWOHEDE has been working with UNFPA and District councils in raising awareness and information to improve the sexual and reproductive health and economic opportunities of adolescent girls by combining ASRH programs with income generating activities and empowerment interventions to reach school drop outs, pregnant and married girls in Kahama.

The major goal of the project was to support access to Sexual and Reproductive Health (SRH) knowledge and services for adolescent mothers and those who are out of school, support their economic empowerment and reintegration to formal education. The project uses the three pronged approach;

- Increase the uptake of SRH and FP services by young girls (teens) with a package of interventions integrated into income generation and literacy improvement
- Provision of income generation skills, and linking beneficiaries with micro-credit programs.
- Improve opportunities in literacy and numeracy, which will enhance the well-being of young women and the opportunity to lead more productive lives.

The project interventions included direct implementation at the community level such as sensitization and advocacy meetings with decision makers and community members, peer educators trainings for adolescent girls, capacity building for health service providers, provision of family planning services and establishment of youth friendly corners, coordination of SRH stakeholders in the district and design strategic approaches to reach the marginalized out of school with SRH information (i.e. using community radio –Kahama FM in reaching out youth with SRH messages). Interventions carried out were based on the recommendations of the baseline survey conducted prior the launch of the project in 2012. Being the control district no interventions of the same were done in Kishapu.
